Go flying without ever leaving the ground in this exciting musical for young audiences!

It's high-flying fun when Pittsburgh CLO's Gallery of Heroes takes you on a journey through the clouds in Pioneers of Flight. Students will experience the thrill of flight as aviation pioneers Wilbur and Orville Wright leave the ground for the very first time; the excitement as Charles Lindbergh attempts to be the first to cross the Atlantic Ocean non-stop; and even be part of the mystery as aviation superstar Amelia Earhart disappears when she attempts to circle the world. See the obstacles and challenges these incredible pilots overcame as they take you with them above the clouds and into your hearts. All schools booking Pioneers of Flight will receive a valuable Teacher's Guide and student handouts to help integrate the show into each grade's classroom activities.
